Art canvass

• Greg Olsen's one-man show will provide gallerygoers with an opportunity to view a large collection of his paintings. This retrospective exhibit will contain 45 pieces, 20 of which are new.

Olsen is best known for paintings filled with classical images and strong emotions. Several pieces play upon the wonders of a child's imagination. One of these, "Castles," has been chosen for the 1992 Timpanogas Storytelling Festival. It will be available as a poster in August, 1992.

The artist grew up on an Idaho farm in the '50s. He says that although this rural setting was hardly a bastion of artistic culture, it provided rich soil in which the seeds of curiosity and wonder flourished.

This show will give a sneak preview of the newest Repartee Gallery at 592 Main in Park City. An opening reception is set for Friday, May 1. The exhibit will remain at the new gallery through Thursday, May 21. For details, call 366-2781.

"The Harvester" by Greg Olsen is part of the Spring Salon in Springville. In May, his work will be seen at Repartee's Park City Gallery.
